RAILROADS FIGHT FOR OREGON LINE

NORTHERN PACIFIC AND GREAT NORTHERN WANT LINK

TO BUILD ROAD FROM BEND TO KLAMATH FALLS

Proposed Line Would Link Oregon's Two Great Producing Pine Centers and Will Add to State's Output of Lumber Products.

Portland.—Two great northern railway systems, the Northern Pacific and Great Northern, demanded the right to build 278 miles south from Bend to Klamath Falls here in an extended hearing ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission, presided over by Charles Mahaffie, director of the commission's bureau of finance.

The proposed line would link Oregon's two great producing pine lumber centers, add enormously to the state's output of lumber products and help along the period of the state's greatest development now at hand, it was declared by railroad officials.

When Director Mahaffie called the battling railroads to order, it was agreed to proceed directly with the Oregon Trunk's application to build south, since that line is the proponent of a rail invasion that is being vigorously opposed by the Southern Pacific Company.

Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern, pictured the Oregon Trunk as a railroad half completed that never would have been built to Bend as an ultimate terminus. A relatively small investment in further building, it was said, would add greatly to earnings, and this without injury to any other carrier because the new line would bring the traffic with it.

President Budd and other witnesses said the Shevlin-Hixon and Weyerhaueser interests had repeatedly asked the northern lines to locate their line to Klamath Falls, so big saw mills to be built could be placed.

Common use of the Eugene-Klamath Falls line of the Southern Pacific, it was said, had been refused the northern lines from Paulina south. The Oregon Trunk's backers then went ahead with new surveys that would, when followed by a railroad line, open up perhaps 40,000,000,000 feet of timber, it was testified.

RUSSIAN PROHIBITION LAW IS BEING DISCARDED

Moscow.—After eleven years of partial prohibition Russia has become completely wet. Whisky, brandy and liquors containing 60 per cent of alcohol and vodka of 4 per cent alcohol again appeared in the cafes, restaurants and stores.

The new order was to have gone into effect on October 1, but as this was within the recruiting period of the red army, it was postponed until the fourth. Several hundred bottles of pre-war liquors of various kinds, which could not be sold previously on account of their high alcoholic content, were automatically released for sale at from $10 to $14 a quart.

Heretofore the government has maintained a monopoly of the manufacture and sale of spirituous liquors. Many influential Communists, including the widow of Nicolai Lenin, were opposed to the abandonment of prohibition, but the government's need of revenue, the improvident use of wheat and rye by the peasantry in making vodka and the wholesale traffic in illicit spirits prompted the government to return to a wet regime.

Churchill Held Greatest Talker

London.—Winston Churchill was the greatest talker during the last session of parliament, his speeches consisting of 145,000 words, filling 309 columns of the official report, said the Parliaald came next with 231 columns, folmentary Gazette. Ramsay MacDonlowed closely by Lloyd George with 210. Premier Stanley Baldwin only spoke 82 columns. Commander J. M. Kenworthy still holds the lead for questions wiht a total of 571.

In Dash for Pole

Rome.—It is stated that Amundsen, who came to Italy recently, has acquired one of the latest Italian dirigibles, the No. 1, for his polar expedition next year. Negotiations were conducted in great secrecy, and Amundsen had several interviews with Mussolini on his arrivel in Rome.

Army Flyer Falls; Unhurt

Leavenworth, Kas.—Lieut. R. L. Maughn, dawn to dusk transcontinental flyer, narrowly escaped injury here when his plane fell fifty feet at Fort Leavenworth, after a faulty takeoff. The plane was wrecked. Maughn was taking part in the Fort Leavenworth air circus.

TO ORGANIZE FOR ANY EMERGENCY

PLAN TO HAVE A COMPANY OF ONE HUNDRED MEN

MARIN COUNTY ARMS AGAINST PRISON BREAK

Semi-Military Vigilante Organization Forming at San Rafael to Respond to Any Emergency That Would Endanger County's Population.

San Francisco.—San Rafael is going to arm itself against the menace of some three thousand convicts boiling in discontent in San Quentin penitentiary and the consequent ever-present danger of a wholesale prison break.

Thirty-five prominent citizens of the town met and decided to form a semi-military organization to respond to the emergency that would be created should the three thousand felons, or any considerable part of that number succeed in fighting their way to liberty, thus to become a danger to men, women and children of Marin county.

The plan is to have an organization of approximately one hundred men, each familiar with firearms. There will be a captain, a first and second lieutenant and two or three sergeants. A place will be obtained for use as an armory and at the first alarm the members of the organization will assemble, arm themselves and establish a patrol of the town.

Determination to organize was said to be the direct result of the escape some months ago from San Quentin of Tanko and Hall, men who created a reign of terror in Sacramento and the country north of there. This escape, however, it was said, merely crystalized and augmented a fear that always has existed by reason of the proximity of the penitentiary, particularly since San Rafael has been without a national gaurd unit.

A great potential danger is said to lurk in the desperate, disatisfaction among the convicts, and numerous recent outbreaks, all of which were quelled, were cited in speeches at the meeting as an indication that a wholesale break might take place.

GERMANS ARE ANGRY AT OUR DICTIONARIES

Berlin.—Considerable resentment has been aroused in the German press by the fact that certain American dictionaries have adopted wartime names of approbrium applied to Germans as proper words with the same meaning.

It cites especially that one American distionary contains the following definitions:

Hun—(1) Members of a barbaric Asiatic race which invaded Europe (4th century).

2—(lately) A German soldier.

3—The same as vandal.

Boche—(1) A blood-thirsty agitator or revolutionary.

2 (lately) A German soldier.

The nationalist papers raise the question as to whether it wouldn't be advisable to adopt the latter name as an honor name and to have every German introduce himself to a foreigner with the words:

"I'm a Boche!"

They point out that many other names of opprobrium have been adopted by the derided, who converted them into honor titles and that even the words, "Made in Germany," now Germany's best drawing advertisement, were originally imposed on German goods by England to indicate they were cheap and poor.

For the designation of German soldiers as "Huns," however, the papers call for reprisals.

Approves Plan for Wilson Stamp

Washington.—President Coolidge and Postmaster General New are in accord with the movement to honor the memory of the late President Woodrow Wilson by placing his portrait on a postage stamp, said a statement issued by the Postoffice department. "The propaganda now being carried on by certain associations and individuals has made it appear that not only President Coolidge, but Postmaster General New, is opposed to such action" read the statement. "Nothing could be further from the facts in the case."

Rat Unharmed by Live Wire

Glasgow.—An electric lamp at the Black bridge over the Black Lynn river failed to light for several nights and puzzled the electricity staff at Oban. When the ground was opened up there was found a large accumulation of straw. A terrier dog was put on the job and in a few minutes a huge rat with a nest of a score of young ones was soon revealed. It was found that the rat had gnawed the electric wire.

OLD 'UNS CELEBRATE WITH YOUNG

The parlors and dining room of the Congregational church were filled to capacity Friday evening when the congregation gathered for a combined fellowship supper and birthday social. The tables were gay with brilliant fall flowers and the birthday table arranged in a hollow square, was additionally bright with lighted orange candles set in red-cheeked apples.

Immediately following the supper a short program of music and "nonsense" asannounced by Dr. Merrill, who presided, was thoroly enjoyed and many expressions of satisfaction over the real sociability of the evening were heard on every side.

The only trouble about being a barber is that once in a while he has to attend to a male customer.

ENLIGHTENING LECTURE ON MEXICO

The lecture Sunday evening by Wilbur S. Tupper at the union meeting in the Methodist church fulfilled all the expectations of the large audience. The theme was handled in a masterly and vivid manner that stamped our neighbor republic with character and personality.

Contrasting pictures were drawn of the Spanish adventurers who entered Mexico and the Puritan fathers who landed at Plymouth Rock. None of us, said Mr. Tupper, can fail to admire the boldness and audacity of Cortez and his handfull of followers who penetrated to the heart of a populous empire, stormed and captured its citadel, and carried away in triumph shiploads of silver and gold; yet we cannot admire their cruelty and greed.

On the other hand little qualification is necessary in our admiration of the noble, if somewhat austere, virtues of the Pilgrims who colonized our own republic. We are ready to admit that it is more of their spirit and exacting discipline that we need today.

The logcal results of the one conquest was repression and exploitation; the logical results of the other were independence and development. In Mexico, Spanish blood and Indian blood mingled to form a race which could not immediately rise to the level of the civilization of Europe; in the north there was little mixture of blood—the Indian gave way to the European.

Mr. Tupper spoke most interestingly of political and religious conditions in Mexico, and of her prospects of rapid advance in the near future. He sees much promise in the confiscation of lands fromth e bishops and land barons and their return to the people to whom they justly belong.

At the conclusion of the lecture several members of the audience responded to the invitation of the speaker to ask questions. Before his departure a partial promise was exacted from Mr. Tupper to return in the near future and give a second talk upon other aspects of the same subject—especially the picture of life of the common Mexican and archaeological Mexico.

CONSOLIDATED AT GILROY TUESDAY

On Tuesday of this week the Santa Clara Co. Consolidated met in Gilroy with a large attendance C. H. Whitman and G. E. Farley representing the Campbell Chamber.

This was the time for the annual election of officers. Wendell C. Thomas was again chosen as president, the others being E. F. Smiley, of Los Gatos, first vice-president; Fred H. Gardner, Saratoga, second vice president; and Ray W. Smith, of Palo Alto, secretary-treasurer, who was also re-elected.

Mr. Whitman reported that the county float which participated in the Diamond Jubilee was a real success. Two tons of individually wrapped prunes were distributed among the spectators.

It was voted unanimously to give $300 from the county advertising fund to complete the amount necessary to properly entertain the 300 delegates to the National Grange who will be visitors in this valley on November 21 from 7 o'clock a. m. to 11 o'clock p. m. The supervisors consider this a very well worth while form of advertising as these delegates will report to their home orders the wonders of Santa Clara Valley and many desirable people now seeking new homes will be influenced to come here.

The November meeting will be held in Los Gatos on the invitation of Mr. Smiley.

Our babies are more important than our business.

CLUB HEARS BOOK REVIEWS

The first literary program of the year was enjoyed Monday by the Country Woman's Club when Mrs. L. F. Shaw, Mrs. W. H. Stray and Mrs. W. S. Shelly presented a delightful review of several novels under the topic, "Modern Literature".

Mrs. Shaw named a number of novels which she had read wholly or in part, giving suggestive bits and whetting the appetite for more. Among the books named were "The Increasing Purpose," by A. M.Hutchinson; "The White Monkey" which rather baffles a short review as the style is so much a part of the real value of the book; "Love" by the author of "Elizabeth and Her Garden", "The George and the Crown" by Shuta K. Smith, a story of two English inns; "Soundings" by Hamilton Gibbs; and "Wild Geese" by Martha Ostenso.

Mrs. Stray characterized her group as rest cure summer reading, but interesting and of worth. She gave a more complete account of Gene Stratton Porter's "The Keeper of the Bees" and spoke briefly of "The Thundering Herd", Zane Grey, "Dr. Arrowsmith", Sinclair Lewis; "The Mother's Problem" Edith Wharton; "The Kenworthys" by Margaret Wilson, author of "The Able McGlaughlin's" and Harold Bell Wright's "The Son of His Father."

As part of her contribution Mrs. Shelley had "The Little French Girl" by Anne Sedgewick (Mrs. Basil de Silencourt.) She read a delightful review, the work of Joan Ainsley, and added some interesting facts about the author, who is American born, and is married to a Frenchman, and lives in England.

She mentioned "Flapper Anne" by Cora Harris and read a charming bit, portraying an old Southern lady. Others mentioned were Sabatinis "The Carolinians" and "The Seamless Robe" by M. Leon Thevenin.

Mrs. E. R. Kennedy gave a most interesting report of the recent luncheon at Hotel Fairmont in honor of the president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. Campbell's two clubs were represented by Mesdames Alison, Carboni, Curry, D. H. Cramer, E. R. Kennedy, M. E. Purmort, Pardee and Miss Laird.

The date for the Chrysanthemum show and party was set for the afternoon and evening of November 6. Reservations for card or mah jongg tables, may be made with Mrs. R. Alison or Mrs. R. H. Hyde.

GRAMMAR P. T. A.

The regular meeting of the Grammar P. T. A. was held Tuesday afternoon, the new president, Mrs. Geo. H. Schuyler in the chair. It is planned to send out membership cards to all parents and a prize of $4.00 will be given the room securing the most members. Mrs. Noble White, sixth district president, was present and spoke briefly of the work her district is doing.

The address of the afternoon was given by Mr. Allen, president of Santa Clara county board of education. His subject was "Social Responsibility of Juvenile Crime" and he emphasized the greatness of crime in United States as compared with the other nations.

The attendance prize of $1.50 was won by Miss Fablinger's room. Miss Bradley of the school faculty, gave a piano solo that was much enjoyed after which all adjourned to the cafeteria where refreshments of cake and coffee were served.

Chas Berry, who has been on leave of absence from the S. P. depot for several weeks was operated upon Sunday at the S. P. hospital on Fell and Baker Sts., San Francisco. Mrs. Berry was down Monday for a few hours and reported his condition as very satisfactory at that time.

Special Sunday Evening Services

Next Sunday evening at the Congregational church will begin a very interesting presentation of some of the vital convictions of the Christian faith. The series is to consist of seven presentations under the main theme, "I Believe." The one for Sunday evening, October 11, is, "I believe in the Bible." There will be two fifteen minute papers by two members of the congregation, and a short summing up by the pastor. Opportunity will be given for asking questions or making remarks on the subject under consideration. This may be made very profitable to us all. We live by our convictions, not by our opinions. Christians of every generation have found the Bible a source of help and inspiration in the meeting of daily life and service. It is vital to the proper meeting of the problems of of the present for individuals and for nutions. We want all the help we can get. God has messages for us yet from tais wonderful and interesting Book. Come and hear what some of our own number are thinking of the convictions that count. Sunday evening, October 11, at 7:30, at the Congregational church.

Oct. 11—"I believe in the Bible."
Oct. 18—"I believe in God the Father."

Nov. 29—Lantern slides.
Dec. 6—"I believe in the Life to Come."

MAKING A GOOD TOWN BETTER

Beauty is as beauty does, and beautiful is the city or town that does keep itself clean. Architecture alone does not make beauty. There is a "homeiness" to towns, just as there is a comfortable aspect to many dwellings both inside and outside.

Many people in seeking locations do not investigate tax rates, nor fire protection, water supply, school systems, and other fundamentals in community life, but base their choices upon external appearances. They "size up" a community not, after all, by its "size," but by its general lay-out and its cleanliness.

It is but natural. First views make lasting impressions, whether of a community, a business man, a motor car or a sweetheart. Is it not, then, to the interest of every community to keep clean and make itself beautiful? Especially so in this age of tourists. A city or town is a standing advertisement to every stranger that whizzes through it.

Do not forget that civic beauty does not consist merely in ornament and flub-dubbery. Things are beautiful in proportion to their degree of utility for good. A wide street, even with a little Saturday-night dirt on it is more beautiful (at least more desirable) than a too narrow and congested clean one. We might carry out such comparisons indefinitely. The subject of civic beauty is a big one. One might go so far as to say that a substantial and law-abiding citizenship—a citizenry that fosters beautiful lives and high characters—is the greatest factor in the development of civic beauty. For if the people are genuinely interested in their community and will work together harmoniously, the rest will come in the natural process of development.

TOY SAYS BAY ROAD WILL BE BUILT FROM S. F. TO SAN MATEO

Construction of the Bayshore highway from San Francisco to San Mateo will be furnished before the end of 1926, according to Harvey M. Toy, chairman of the State Highway Commission, who has worked out a plan for diverting more than $400,000 of federal aid money to the building of the road which will break the "south barrier" of San Francisco.

Mr. Toy is an advocate of the construction of a tunnel under the Southern Pacific tracks at South San Francisco to join the Bayshore road with the new highway, of graveling the Bayshore road south of San Francisco, and of the extension of the highway for three miles from Burlingame to San Mateo. The cost of this work is estimated at $400,000.

No money has been voted by the state but San Francisco has provided $500,000 to build the road from South San Francisco to Burlingame.

BURLINGAME LEADS PENINSULA CITIES IN NEW BUILDINGS

Burlingame led in the number of building permits and amount of construction for the month of August, showing an expenditure of $210,050. Burlingame was closely followed by Palo Alto which issued permits for buildings to the amount of $190,887. San Mateo issued permits for buildings, to the extent of $150,445, while Redwood City showed $78,189 for new construction. The great majority of permits in the four peninsula cities were for one and two-story family dwellings, indicating a rapid gain in population for these communities. The total for August for four peninsula cities was $629,571. For the month of August, 1924, these cities expended $632,265 for new buildings.

At a cost of $75,000, the University of Redlands, at Redlands, San Bernardino county, is building a class A steel frame, reinforced concrete library building on its beautiful campus and which is being rushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

Tulare county has been "stung," according to American Legion boys and World war veterans, who insist the German "war trophy" received at Visalia for the county is not a World war Germany cannon, but one of the vintage of fifty years ago used in the Franco-Prussian war. The Legion posts of Tulare county combined in one request for a sizeable cannon for the courthouse park. The one received, they say, never saw the World war.

E. J. L. Stone who is district agent for Fly-tox has rented the R. Alison bungalow on South Second St., recently vacated by A. W. Uloh. Mr. Stone expressed himself as very much pleased with his new location, the house being so superior to what he could secure in San Jose for even considerably higher rent.

Boys and girls of Campbell and vicinity from 5 to 14 years of age, your attention is called. The Week-Day Bible School has resumed its meetings. The classes meet on Wednesday afternoons directly after school. The younger ones meet first and the older ones later as they come from school. The meeting place is the Methodist S. S. room, but all children of every denomination are cordially invited to come. Come and see who can win the most stars for good work done.

Plans are being prepared for a 2-story and basement brick store and office building to be erected in Tulare, Tulare county. There will be seven stores on the first floor, with an arcade in the center. The second floor will be arranged for offices for the medical profession and will consist of interchangeable suites.

San Francisco is to have a new 25-story class A office building to represent an investment of close to $5,000,000. It is to be located at the southwest corner of Sutter and Montgomery streets and its construction will be commenced February 1, 1926.

CHARLOTTE BROWN

Mrs. Charlotte Brown, sister of Mrs. J. F. Wehmeyer, passed away suddenly Sunday evening at the Wehmeyer home after a heart attack.

Mrs. Wehmeyer and sister started to the theatre when a light heart stroke was experienced. This soon passed and they proceded to the show. While seeing the film another stroke came on and she was brought home, passing away but a few minutes later. Besides her sister, the deceased is survived by a brother, Luther Hadsell, of San Francisco.

Cremation was at Cypress Lawn Tuesday.

Mrs. Brown had come but the day before for a visit with her sister.

Mrs. Wehmeyer has the deepest sympathy of her many friends here in her hour of bereavement.

Holtville was the first town of Imperial valley to give any attention to a city park, due perhaps to the fact that its founder, W. F. Holt, had dedicated several acres in the center of the townsite for that purpose. The embryo city had no money to expend for lawns, trees, shrubs and flowers, but a number of enterprising citizens took over the work as a labor of love and these were provided. Today the park is one of Imperial's beauty spots.

At the meeting of the Chileno Valley Farm Center, Sonoma county, Marin County Farm Advisor M. B. Boissevan spoke on the cow testing situation in the county, stating that many more cows were being tested in the Pt. Reyes section than were tested there last year. He stated that the Chileno-Salmon Creek Association will be organized shortly.

Increased operating costs, due to a longer irrigation season, are explained as reasons for the sharp rise in the 1925-26 tax rate for the Merced irrigation district, fixed by its board of directors recently following a 3-day study of engineers' budgets. The rate was announced as $7.10, an increase of $2.85 over the previous levy of $4.25 per $100 valuation.

An announcement has been made by Farm Adviser V. F. Blanchard that an experimental pruning plot will be established in Ventura county by Dr. L. D. Batchelor of the citrus experiment station, Walnut Extension Specialist W. B. Hooper and the agricultural extension service of the county. The plot will be located in the orchard of D. A. Tobias at Saticoy.

The Likely Lumber Company, at Alturas, Modoc county, has closed its sawmill for the season, having approximately one million feet of yellow pine lumber of all grades on hand at the mill and in the railroad yards at Likely. The company will log in approximately half a million feet of logs this fall and winter for manufacture next spring.

At the Dr. F. P. Denham home on Kent street, Petaluma, Sonoma county, there is an apple tree in full bearing with a second crop of fruit. Early in the springtime the tree blossomed, then the apples came. After the first crop was harvested, the tree again burst forth into blossom and is now bearing apples, which are as large as marbles.

The tremendous growth of public highway transportation in California was shown graphically when the railroad commission issued its annual report for 1924, showing that nearly 30,000,000 passengers were carried and approximately 1,000,000 tons of freight transported by auto stage and truck lines operating throughout the state.

Six hundred delegates to the California State Federation of Labor convention terminated their 5-day convention at San Diego by selecting Oakland as the next place of the state meeting. The Marysville delegates and supporters made a strong bid for the next annual meeting, losing by only about 2,000 votes. Oakland received 18,118 votes to 16,187 for Marysville.

According to figures available, the cost of the trial of the four defendants charged with the murder of Lee Camp of Hanford, Kings county, up to August 1, including a portion of the cost of the pending appeal, had reached a total of $15,180.39. Manila Aids Stricken Towns

Manila.—The house passed a bill appropriating $50,000 for the aid of calamity stricken communities. Should the bill pass the senate without amendment, it is predicted that Governor-General Leonard Wood will veto it because of a provision giving power to distribute funds among suffering people to the secretary of the interior.

Are You Gambling with Your Home?

The owner of an uninsured home is simply betting against a small insurance premium that he will never have a fire.

The owner of a partly insured home has lowered the stake, but otherwise he is doing the same.

The owner of a fully insured house is a man too wise to gamble against an opponent that takes $500,000,000 annually from the American public.

We can offer you fire insurance in any amount, in thoroughly reliable, prompt-paying companies.

"Home"—the place where we grumble the most and are treated the best.

"She's better than she used to be"

"—starts easier, climbs hills better and gives less trouble all around. And I believe the answer is this new Zerolene 'F' for Fords I've been using. It costs less than the oil I'd been using, but it actually seems to lubricate better."

Zerolene "F" for Fords gets to all the parts requiring lubrication—especially the wrist-pin bearings and upper half of the cylinder walls.

Zerolene "F" for Fords is made by the Standard Oil Company's patented vacuum process. It deposits a minimum of carbon, and because it lubricates better it enables the engine to develop a noticeable increase of power over and above what Ford owners have been accustomed to expect.

A Ford is an A-1 transportation investment. Protect your investment by proper lubrication.
